

July 13, 2017

Dear Aviation Professional,

It is my pleasure to invite you to attend the 2017 Alabama Airport Conference on September 25th – 27th, 2017. This year we will be holding our conference in the beautiful city of Tuscaloosa, Alabama. Our conference hotel is the Hotel Capstone with all of our meetings held at the University of Alabama Bryant Conference Center which is within walking distance of the hotel. We will hold a welcome reception on Sunday, September 24th at the Bryant Museum from 5:30-7:00. If you are arriving early please plan on joining us for a tour of this amazing facility.

We have invited speakers who will address issues that are important to all airports and aviation professionals. In addition we will have important updates from key government agencies including the FAA and the Alabama Department of Transportation-Aeronautics Bureau.

Our Monday night reception and dinner will be a treat for all bar-b-que fans, as we will have a clash of the local favorites for you to sample and some “special” visitors. The Tuesday night banquet will be one to remember with a terrific dinner and a production entitled “Charles Lindbergh: The Lone Eagle”.

We hope that you can plan to stay through the conclusion of our program as we will once again have some fantastic prizes that will be drawn for prior to noon on Wednesday.

We are planning a great couple of days for you. We still have sponsorships available at all levels so please let us know if you would like to be one of our valued sponsors. We welcome exhibitors and have chosen this year to have you located within the meeting room for maximum exposure.

The Alabama Airport Conference offers attendees, exhibitors and sponsors a great opportunity to learn, share, and network. Please submit your registration, sponsorship and exhibitor forms early. I look forward to seeing each of you in Tuscaloosa!

Sincerely,

Jed Blackwell
President, Aviation Council of Alabama
